

Francisco Fraga

Executive Vice President, Chief Information Officer and Chief Technology Officer

Francisco Fraga is Executive Vice President, Chief Information Officer and Chief Technology Officer for McKesson Corporation. As a member of the Executive Operating Team, Francisco leads McKesson's technology initiatives, cybersecurity and guides the company's overall technology strategy.

Francisco joined McKesson in 2021 as Senior Vice President and Chief Information Officer for McKesson's US Pharmaceutical business, where he was responsible for defining and delivering the IT strategy to enable the key business imperatives of the company's US Pharmaceutical Distribution and Oncology businesses. Prior to McKesson, Francisco was the Chief Technology and Information Officer at the Campbell Soup Company, where he had ownership for the enterprise IT strategy, focusing on creating value via technology-enabled business transformation in support of Campbell's strategic objectives, while ensuring business continuity with IT operational excellence, governance, information security and enablement of M&A. Francisco also worked at Procter and Gamble for 22 years, having served in a variety of roles, including Chief Information Officer for the Feminine Care Business Unit and as global Chief Technology Officer.

Francisco holds a bachelor's degree in computer engineering from Simon Bolivar University in his native home country of Venezuela.

McKesson Corporation is a diversified healthcare services leader dedicated to advancing health outcomes for patients everywhere. Our teams partner with biopharma companies, care providers, pharmacies, manufacturers, governments, and others to deliver insights, products and services to help make quality care more accessible and affordable. Learn more about how McKesson is impacting virtually every aspect of healthcare at McKesson.com and read Our Stories.