

Report on 2022 Lobbying Activities

The Board believes that it is in the best interest of our shareholders for McKesson to be an effective participant in the public policy process. The Board exercises oversight of McKesson's political and public policy activities. The Senior Vice President of Public Affairs has management responsibility for all political contributions, lobbying activities and related expenditures and consults with McKesson's senior business leaders and internal and external counsel to help ensure alignment between McKesson's political engagement activities, McKesson's public policy priorities and applicable law. The Senior Vice President of Public Affairs provides regular updates to the Board on such matters consisting of reports on public policy issues, political engagements, lobbying activities and corporate political contributions.

We disclose to our shareholders on an annual basis the aggregate dollars McKesson spends on certain lobbying activities as well as our general public policy priorities and lobbying efforts. The information below pertains to McKesson's lobbying activities during the calendar year ended December 31, 2022 (Calendar Year 2022).

Public Policy Priorities for Lobbying in Calendar Year 2022:

- Access to affordable medicines: McKesson is committed to bolstering community providers, which are often the lower cost, preferred setting of care for patients. We continue to invest in provider and patient tools to drive cost transparency and enable data-driven, shared decision-making between providers and patients.
- Connecting the healthcare landscape: We are committed to fostering a healthcare system that leverages technology to empower patients. McKesson is a member of the Healthcare Innovation Alliance, which works to harness the power of data and technology to improve patient care and speed up the development of potentially life-saving treatments.
- Promoting community healthcare providers: McKesson is committed to promoting diverse settings of care and supporting community healthcare providers. In communities across the country, pharmacists are often the first and most easily accessible health care provider. McKesson is a member of the Future of Pharmacy Care Coalition, ensuring equitable patient access to essential care and services by pharmacists.
- Addressing healthcare disparities: McKesson believes that health equity belongs to every patient and is committed to help reduce health disparities and inequities that impact patient access, quality of care and health outcomes.
- Protecting drug supply-chain security: McKesson supports public-private partnership of the strategic national stockpile and warm rotational managed inventory of essential medicines and medical products necessary for federal, state, and local emergency preparedness and response efforts.
- Advancing a comprehensive oncology and biopharma platform: We generate real-world data and evidence that accelerate oncology innovation, make clinical trials more accessible, deliver specialty therapy, conduct research, and help patients access and afford medicines. McKesson supports expanding clinical trial eligibility to increase patient diversity and removing barriers that prevent clinical trial completion.
